From Tuesday July 24. to Saturday July 28. 1716.

St. James's, July 24.

THIS Day the Right Honourable John Lord Carteret was ſworn Lord Lieutenant of the County of Devon; and the Honourable George Berkley, Eſq; and Walter Cary, Eſq; were ſworn Clerks in Extraordinary of His Majeſty's moſt Honourable Privy-Council.

His Royal Highneſs hath been pleaſed to appoint John Rogers, Eſq; Sheriff of the County of Norfolk, in the Room of his Father, deceaſed.

An humble Addreſs to His Majeſty from the Lieutenant General Council and Aſſembly of the Iſland of St. Chriſtophers, having been tranſmitted hither, has been preſented to his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales by Mr. Du Port, Agent for that Iſland, introduced by the Right Honourable Paul Methuen, Eſq; one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Which Addreſs His Royal Highneſs was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

Warſaw, July 14. By Letters from Lublin of the 27th paſt we had an Account, that in a Conference held there that Day, after ſeveral Debates relating to the Suſpenſion of Arms, and the Evacuation of Lemberg and Zamoſch, the King's Plenipotentiaries declared, that to ſhew his Majeſty's Condeſcenſion and Inclination to facilitate the Treaty as much as poſſible, they were impowered to agree to the Evacuation of both thoſe Places. Other Letters from thence of the 30th adviſed, that a Seraskier from Turkey had had an Audience of the Confederate Marſhals at Lezezno, 3 Miles from Lublin, but what Commiſſion he is charged with is not yet publickly known. On the 4th Inſtant arrived an Expreſs from the Prince of Weiſſenfels with an Account, that in his March from Lemberg towards Zamoſch, with 1200 of the Saxon Troops, he met a Body of more than 3000 Men of the beſt of the Poles and Lithuanians, who had reſolved to diſpute a Defile that he was obliged to paſs; but after a ſharp Engagement he forced his Way, and intirely routed them, killing a good Number and taking ſeveral Priſoners, among them M Wapowski a Brigadier, who commanded the Poles, and is ſince dead of his Wounds at Zamoſch. This Action happened on the 28th paſt at Dobrozin. On the 6th in the Morning arrived M. la Marre, the King's Adjutant-General, with the Articles of the Suſpenſion of Arms, which were ſigned the 4th at Night at Lublin. Since which we have had no Advices of Moment from thence, the Deputies of the Confederates being gone to their Marſhals for further Inſtructions. By Letters from Lemberg we are informed, that the Saxon Troops were marched out, and that a Party of the Confederates had taken Poſſeſſion of the Town. The Saxons have likewiſe evacuated Zamoſch, but the Prince of Weiſſenfels, before he marched out, ordered all the Cannon of the Place, to the Number of 120, to be nailed. He is marched towards Golomb, where he is to joyn the Generals Bawditz and Milkaw, and they are to incamp there during the Time of the Armiſtice, which was made but for a few Days, but in all probability will be prolonged, moſt People here being of Opinion that the Conferences at Lublin will end in an Accommodation; the further adjuſting of ſeveral Matters of Moment being to be left to a general Diet, which will be held here in January or February next.

Vienna, July 18. On the 14th in the Morning returned hither, the Courier which M. Bruyninx, the Dutch Miniſter here, diſpatched to Count Colyer, the States Ambaſſadour at the Port, on the 15th of April. He left Conſtantinople the 22d of May. He could not get an Order there for his returning by the way of Belgrade; and it was not without Difficulty that he obtained Leave to imbark in a Ship which the French Ambaſſadour ſent to Marſeilles with Diſpatches for his Court. The ſaid Courier reports, that they paſſed by the Turkiſh Fleet near the Iſle of Cerigo, and that it conſiſted of 60 Ships, but indifferently manned, viz. 18 Men of War, carrying from 60 to 80 Guns each, 14 Gallies, and 28 Ships carrying from 15 to 20 Guns each. The laſt Courier ſent by the Imperial Court, arrived at Conſtantinople the 22d of April. The Letter he carried from Prince Eugene to the Grand Vizier, was immediately tranſlated and read in the Divan, and having been conſidered at that Time, and in ſeveral other Divans held for that purpoſe, it was at length determined on the 26th of April, to ſend back M. Fleiſchman to Vienna, with an Anſwer in the Form of a Manifeſto. On the 9th of May, the Grand Signior and the Grand Vizier ſet out for Adrianople, whence the latter was to proceed with all Expedition to Belgrade; grade; and M. Fleiſchman ſet out on the 14th to follow the Grand Signior to Adrianople. There are Letters from the Frontiers which tells us, that the Grand Signior is come to Semendria, and that Sir Robert Sutton, Count Colyer, and M. Fleiſchman, are with him. The Ottoman Court have ſent a Manifeſto to their Paſhas, on the Frontiers of Hungary, to warn them to keep on their Guard, and to juſtify their Conduct towards the Emperour. In it ſeveral things are affirmed as Facts which were never done, and more that really paſſed are ſuppreſſed. Particularly, a ſecret Article was made at Carlowitz, relating to the Venetians: And in November 1714. the Reſident M. Fleſchman declared, That the Port could not attack them without an open Rupture with the Emperour: But the Vizier anſwered him haughtily, That whoever ſhould dare to take Part with the Venetians, ſhould, like them, feel the juſt Indignation of the Port; and that if the Reſident offered to ſpeak any more in ſuch a Strain, he ſhould be ſent to the Seven Towers. From that Time the Emperour began to take Meaſures againſt the Turks. Prince Eugene arrived at Futack on the 10th Inſtant, and immediately proceeded to Peterwaradin. On the 16th Count Altheim was declared Maſter of the Horſe, in the Room of Count Diedrichſtein, deceaſed. 8 Ships built here to be employed in the Siege of Belgrade, have been bleſſed and named with great Ceremony, by the Biſhop of this City, Prince Litchtenſtein aſſiſting on the Part of the Emperour: 3 of them went down the River Yeſterday, but ſome of the reſt will not be ready till a Month hence.

Copenhagen, July 25. Beſides the 36 Gallies which came with the Czar, 12 more arrived on the 18th Inſtant. Theſe 48 Gallies have in all brought near 10000 Men, moſt of which are landed and already encamped without this City, at ſome Diſtance from the Gates. Theſe Troops make a very good Appearance, and are well cloathed, obſerve ſtrict Diſcipline, the Soldiers do not want Money, and pay well for what they are furniſhed with: No Meal was brought with them, but 47000 Tuns of Meal is provided in ſeveral Places of Pomerania and Holſtein, and ready to be imbarked for the Subſiſtance of theſe Forces. On the 20th in the Morning, Commadore Tordenſchild ſailed for Norway, to get a certain Account of the Situation of Affairs in that Kingdom, from whence we have not had any Mail by Poſt this Fortnight, though the Wind has been fair ſome Part of that Time. 'Tis not certain yet what Day the Daniſh Fleet will be ready to put to Sea from our Road, tho' the fitting it out is continued with great Diligence. In the mean while the Swedes are Maſters in the Baltick, and we have Advice that they have newly taken 15 Ships on the Coaſt of Gotland, belonging to ſeveral Nations. On the 23d at Night the Czar's Conſort arrived here: Her Entry was in much the ſame Manner as that of the Czar. The King met and complimented her at Fredericksberg, a Seat about a Mile from hence; where the Czar has been to make a Viſit to the Queen, who is at preſent a little indiſpoſed, but is ſhortly expected here. The Czar and his Conſort are lodged in a Merchant's Houſe in this City. The Lord Polwarth, Envoy Extraordinary of His Britannick Majeſty, is expected here from Hambourg in 2 or 3 Days.

St. James's, July 27. On the 25th Inſtant their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Wales went to Hampton-Court.

There having been lent or loſt, 7 or 8 Years ſince, a Journal in Manuſcript, of the Expedition to the Iſle of Rhe, under the Conduct of the Duke of Buckingham in the Reign of King Charles I. which was written by the then Secretary to his Grace: In caſe any Gentleman hath the ſaid Journal in his Poſſeſſion, he is deſired to be ſo kind as to ſend it to Mr. Burchett, Secretary of the Admiralty; who hath now almoſt ready for the Preſs, a Hiſtory of Naval-Tranſactions, from the Time of the ancient Britains to the cloſe of the laſt War with France.

A General quarterly Court of the Corporation of the Amicable Society for a perpetual Aſſurance-Office, will be held at Sadlers-Hall in Cheapſide, on Thurſday the 2d of Auguſt next, at Four a Clock in the Afternoon.
